

Top 5 Benefits of Video Conferencing

CONNECT. COMMUNICATE. COLLABORATE.

With a single click, Telesystem's Video Conferencing solution allows you to conduct face-to-face meetings, chat, share your screen, applications, and whiteboard with anyone, anytime, anywhere.

1

Unify Your Team

With the growing number of mobile workers and employees telecommuting, video conferencing enables users to collaborate however they want: with video, chat, and screen/file sharing from wherever they happen to be working.

2

No Need to Travel

It costs companies a lot of money and time to travel to meet people. With video conferencing, you can organize and hold a meeting on the fly with participants from remote places all over the world.

3

Increase Engagement

With expansive features, there are many ways you can keep your audience engaged:

- Share your screen during meetings to add visuals
- Demonstrate how to use applications in real time
- Utilize the blackboard feature to add live annotations

4

Humanize Your Conversations

In contrast to voice communication or email, a video is moving pictures, which are worth more than a million words. Body language is an incredibly important part of human interaction and seeing someone while talking to them completely changes the nomenclature of a conversation, be it for business or in a personal relationship.

Simplify Your IT

Telesystem Video Conferencing leverages the cloud to give businesses a competitive edge. Users can initiate video conferences, collaborate on documents or conduct webinars without the need to deploy or manage additional equipment.
