

The MaX UC Meeting standalone application on desktop provides audio and video conferencing over the internet, including web collaboration features such as screen sharing, whiteboard annotations, and presentation capabilities.

There are several different options for different webinar and higher participant rooms available. This guide simply highlights all the primary meeting features. Please talk with your Telesystem representative for more details on all options available.

If you enjoy the full MaX UC suite (including voice calls, chat, and presence for green platform users), please refer to the full MaX UC guide.

This guide refers to the features of the standalone meeting application only.

Installation

MaX UC is an application that must be installed for use. Downloads files, system requirements, and installation instructions may be found by browsing to <https://www.telesystem.us/UC-Green/>.

Access

Logging into the application requires your account credentials, which are your Telesystem direct telephone number and CommPortal password.

If you do not have this information, please contact your system administrator or Telesystem directly.

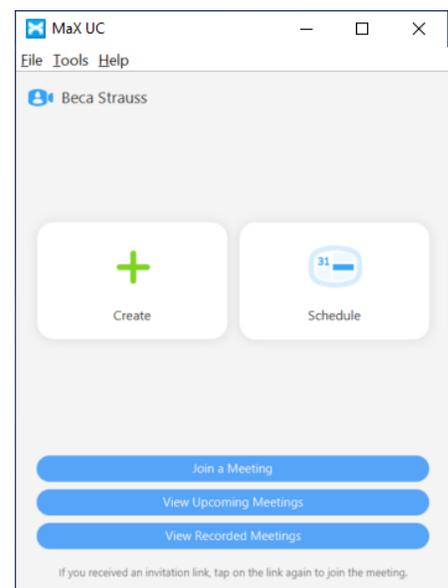

The remainder of this guide assumes that you have successfully installed and logged into the standalone Meeting application on your MAC or PC computer.

Set Up or Join a Meeting

MaX Meeting users can set up and a meeting that occurs right away or schedule a meeting in advance.

Choose one of the following to set up a meeting in Meeting home screen (pictured to the right):

- Create to send an email invite or web link then start a meeting immediately.
- Schedule to schedule a meeting in advance. When this option is chosen, you will title and schedule to meeting appropriately. When you are pre-scheduling meetings, your computer's default calendar program (such as google or outlook) may appear to assist you in easily sending the invitation.
- Join a Meeting to join someone else's meeting directly from the application.

Viewing Meetings

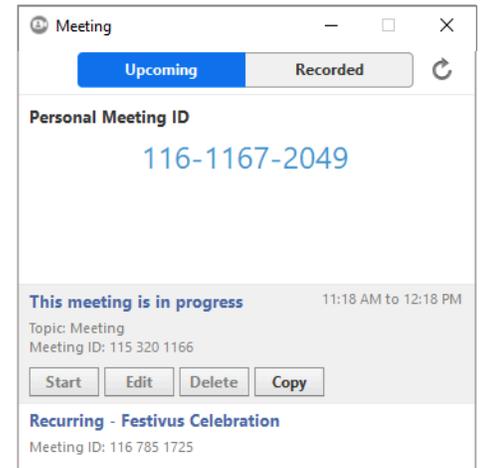

You can view upcoming and recorded meetings via Meeting application by selecting View Upcoming Meetings or View Recorded Meetings on the home view.

From the Upcoming tab, you may:

- Start the selected meeting
- Delete an upcoming meeting
- Edit the meeting details such as audio and video preferences
- Copy to save the meeting invite details to your computer clipboard

The Recorded tab will show details and give access to recorded meetings. Recording files are saved locally to the Meeting program file on your local computer and thus only the recordings saved on your current machine will be shown in the list.

Live Meeting Options

While a meeting is in progress, you will see the host toolbar at the bottom of the Meeting window.

Host toolbar:

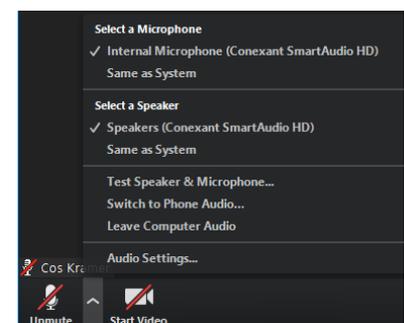

Audio and Video Options
